

FIRE BLOCK DOORS

French Fab

Safety and X-Ray protection for radiology rooms

Ensure staff safety with FABRIX custom-made leaded fire block-doors.

Leaded wooden fire lock-doors (EI 30) are the solution to effectively block X-Ray leaks at access points in the radiology rooms. As part of the rehabilitation of a radiology department (traditional or interventional radiology), our product is the reliable solution that meets your requirements.

LEADED FIRE BLOCK DOOR WITH RECOGNIZED FUNCTIONALITY

Leaded FABRIX fire block doors EI30 is a main component of X-Ray protection in a room

It is not just a simple door, but a complete system including the door itself (the leaf) and the frame (the casing), both leaded to prevent any X-Ray leakage.

Essential for staff and patients protection,

TECHNICAL FEATURES OF FABRIX LEADED FIRE BLOCK-DOORS EI30

- Leaded fire beech door frame of 70 mm x 70 mm (other dimensions on request)
- Fire Medium wooden junction tapes of 8 mm thickness
- Standard dimensions : Height 2040 mm x width 930 mm (1 leaf) or Height 2040 mm x 930+930 mm (2 leaves) (other dimensions on request),
- Lead equivalence : 1 mm, 1,5 mm, 2 mm, 2,5 mm, 3 mm

OPTIONS FOR BETTER ERGONOMICS

For a perfect integration, several options are available for use :

- Leaded occulus of 330 mm x 430 mm, lead equivalence 1 mm, 2 mm, 3 mm
- Wooden casing of 100 mm x 120 mm
- Overlap of the door leaf in laminated wood or fine wood essence
- 2 unequal leaves

Other options on request according to feasibility